“As we look at current asset evaluation, I feel that MXR is about providing the best services possible; they listen to the end user. MXR has been very helpful to me, listening to what I have, what I need, working with us on the cost of equipment, and partnering with the coordination of installation and de-installation. It’s a total group effort.”

- Sue Kirchhof, National Purchasing Manager
MXR Customer

“Our goal is to have our partners, vendors, customers, and even our competition see the strength of our brand and our organization as being solutions-oriented and customer-centric with best-in-class capabilities.”
